Dear Mr. Clark and Mr. Zelinger,

As you proceed with this evening's Democratic gubernatorial primary date, I will respectfully note that I raised my concerns about Attorney General Phil Weiser's integrity and qualifications directly to Mr. Clark in September of 2025 (also in May of 2025). I just wanted to make sure that you and the other candidates I had previously communicated with were aware of these facts.

Sincerely,
Christopher Gregory

Good morning Mr. Clark,

After some reflection, I think that the issues in the democratic gubernatorial primary are simple. Phil Weiser presents himself as "the people's attorney" and an anti-corruption champion when he is, in fact, one of the worst offenders. Questioning Weiser about his role in authorizing over $4 million in illegal/unethical non-disclosure agreements is critical. It is also necessary to question Weiser about his knowledge of the Masias Memo in 2019. Knowingly concealing material information from the Colorado State Auditor (i.e. the existence of the Masias Memo) as she performed functions related to the federally required Single Statewide Audit, constitutes multiple felony-level federal crimes.

Weiser has two very exposed Achilles heels in this contest.

With respect to the non-disclosure agreements, you should also be aware that now-announced Republican candidate Barbara Kirkmeyer was the champion of reform and the sponsor of SB 23-053 (which now ostensibly prohibits the practice).

I have attached the two critical newspaper articles which broke the stories on these issues.

> David Migoya, Colorado Attorney General's Office Lawyers Knew about Judicial Misconduct Memo, DENVER GAZETTE, February 12, 2021
> David Migoya, Nondisclosures Under Fire: State Confidentiality Agreements Cost Millions, Silence Whistleblowers, DENVER GAZETTE, November 13, 2022.

Just so you are also aware of some additional background. When Phil Weiser ran for Attorney General in 2018, I donated to his campaign after specifically asking him about his commitment to protecting civil liberties. When he announced his run for Governor earlier this year, he sent me an automated text asking to donate again. I responded by sending a link to the above article about nondisclosure agreements. There was no response from Weiser's campaign and I was apparently removed from his solicitation list. Weiser knows that he does not have any good answers to these questions and that he cannot explain away his involvement in the Colorado Judicial Scandal.

Please do not hesitate to let me know if you have any questions. It is unclear why none of the major publications or the broadcast media (including your program) have focused in on Phil Weiser's weaknesses despite the issues having been out in the open for now over 4 years.

Warmest regards,

Christopher Gregory
