CASE NUMBER: 2026CV32668

If I am understanding your question correctly the commissions received survey reports in March and other evaluation materials in April (Decisions, case management reports, judge self-evaluations, comments from interested parties, if any, conduct courtroom observations). Commission conduct and initial interview in May and must complete the evaluations by July 1. You are correct that survey reports are available to the public on our website when we post recommendations and evaluations (this year August 4).

Mr. Wagner,

Thank you for your response. Could you also clarify the schedule for the various judicial performance committees receiving surveys and conducting their evaluations? If I recall from 2024, the evaluations were released concurrently with the retention election declarations.

Sincerely,
Christopher Gregory

Subject: RE: 2026 Judicial Retention Cycle

Mr. Gregory,
Attached is a list of Judges eligible to stand for retention in 2026. To be on the ballot judges need to file with the SOS a "declaration to stand for retention". This is due on August 3, 2026. The list provided may change depending on who files or does not file to be on the ballot. We will not know until August 4.
